

LEGISLATURE MEETS IN JOINT SESSION, CANVASS VOTE, PREPARE FOR INAUGURATION, RECEIVE DENEEN'S MESSAGE

Names of Justice G. A. Cook and Judge M. L. McKinley are Advanced as Democratic Possibilities for U. S. Senate

M'KINLEY COMBINATION MAY ELECT SHERMAN

Same Combination of Democrats and Republicans Which Elected Speaker McKinley are Believed to Assure Election of Judge L. Y. Sherman—House and Senate Spend Much Time Over Technicalities.

HOUSE ADJOURNS UNTIL MONDAY MORNING

SPRINGFIELD, JAN. 30.—The names of Justice George A. Cook of Alton, member of the Illinois supreme court and Judge Michael L. McKinley of Chicago, member of the Cook county superior court, tonight advanced as Democratic possibilities for the United States senate. The two new names were brought out in gossip which came after the adjournment of the legislature today. It was said that Roger C. Sullivan of Chicago, former Democratic national committeeman, and men allied with him in the state Democracy looked with favor upon these two men as opposed to the candidacy of James Hamilton Lewis, the Democratic primary nominee for the senate.

Sullivan's bi-partisan victory in the naming Representative McKinley as speaker and the breaking of the deadlock in the house last night was taken by many politicians as the forerunner of a federal senatorial election in which Mr. Lewis would be given senate consideration.

Combination For Sherman.
It was said that the same combination of Democrats and Republicans which elected Speaker McKinley, aided by additional members of the house, would be assured for the election of Judge Lawrence Sherman, Republican for one of the federal senatorial seats and any Democrat agreed upon for the second seat.

Discussion of the senatorial situation now that the deadlock is out of the way tonight took precedence over the coming federal inauguration of Governor-elect Dunne and officers of the new Democratic administration. By the time the members of the legislature begin voting on the senatorships, February 11th, it is believed that Republican and Democratic leaders will have perfected the combination upon which they now are hard at work. A number of both Democratic and Republican legislators were called to Chicago tonight for conference on the senatorial situation. Sitting in joint session for half an hour today the two houses canvassed the vote cast at the last election and formally declared the result. Only one more official act remains to be performed before the newly elected state officers take possession of their offices.

House Adjourns Till Monday.
That is the inauguration, which is set for next Monday at noon. When the joint assembly broke the senators returned to the senate chamber and the house adjourned until Monday.

The members of both houses appeared tired today after the excitement of yesterday. In the senate a number of bills were introduced and in the house Governor Deneen's message was ordered printed without being read.

Speaker McKinley announced today that he favors a committee on committees. This announcement makes it almost certain that the committee of the forty-eight general assembly will be selected by a committee rather than by the speaker, as has been the long standing custom.

Arrangements Completed.
Arrangements for the inauguration of Governor Dunne and the other incoming state officers, were completed today by the inauguration committee consisting of Senators Manny, Barr, Brady, Cornwell, Glackin and Keller, and Representatives Farrell, Garesche, Arthur Roe, King, Provine and Kleeman.

The governor and his party will arrive here Sunday afternoon. On Monday, after reviewing a civil parade and being escorted to the capitol the newly elected officers will go to the hall of representatives where at 12 o'clock noon the oath of office will be administered by Chief Justice Frank K. Dunn.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the newly inducted state officers will receive informally in the executive offices an arrangement giving the legislators and politicians opportunity to meet the new officials.

The formal official public reception will be held at the governor's mansion from 8 o'clock in the evening until 11 o'clock.

Good roads enthusiasts arrived tonight from all sections of the state to attend the convention called to demonstrate to the Illinois general assembly the interest in highway improvement legislation.

Relations With House Strained.
By standing on technicalities, the senate at noon today came extremely near involving that body in a serious controversy with the house. For an hour or more the relations between the two bodies of the legislature were so strained that it looked like another postponement of the inauguration of the new Democratic state officers would be forced.

When the house resolution providing for a joint session at 11 o'clock to canvass the vote on state officers reached the senate, Senator Logan Hay of Springfield figuratively threw a monkey wrench into the machinery of the day's proceedings by calling attention to a ruling four years ago by Lawrence Sherman, who was in the lieutenant governor's chair at the time, that the session was not a joint session when the vote was canvassed, but that the two bodies were merely sitting together to witness a constitutional act. Mr. Hay argued that the precedent should be maintained. Upon his suggestion a committee of senators was named by Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby to consider the house resolution. Senators Hay, Jones and Mann were placed on this committee.

Offer New Resolution.
The committee recommended that the house resolution be not considered and offered a new resolution directing the house that the senate to notify the house that the senate will be there at 11:30 o'clock to witness the canvassing of the vote. Members of the house in a series of indignant speeches refused the senate notification and insisted that the senate receive the house resolution.

Representatives David E. Shanahan, Republican floor leader; Morton Denison Hull of Chicago, Lucas L. Butts of Peoria, Homer J. Tice of Greenville, John M. Rapp of Fairfield and Lee O'Neill Browne of Ottawa, spoke against the attitude of the senate and declared that the senate was standing on "superficial dignity" and that the house might just as well at this time indicate "broadly" its temper not to be "bossed" by the senate.

On motion of Representative Shanahan the senate notification was voted down in the house and the senate took up anew consideration of the original house resolution.

Denounces Senate's Attitude.
Senator Johann Waage of Chicago Democrat, then arose in the senate and denounced the attitude of the senate in standing on technicalities and asked the senators to adopt the house joint resolution, so that the vote might be canvassed without further delay.

Senator Walter Clyde Jones of Chicago moved that a committee of three be appointed to confer with Speaker McKinley on the subject. Lieutenant Governor Oglesby ruled this motion out of order on the ground that the house resolution, still pending, required some action. Senator Clark of Chicago moved that the senate reject the house joint resolution and that the lieutenant governor appoint a committee to confer with the house. Senator Curtis, also objecting to standing on technicalities, moved to table the Clark motion.

News from the house was received at this juncture to the effect that Representatives objected to the form of the senate's notification of its actions and not to the substance. Acting upon this understanding, Secretary Paddock of the senate prepared a new notice to the house, drafted in proper form, and sent it across the rotunda.

This complication in the day's proceedings delayed adjournment for two hours, while the various angles of the fight were debated in brief recesses by members of both houses.

Receive Stead's Report.
The senate received a voluminous report from Attorney General Stead on his department's investigation of submerged and shore lands in which the state is believed to have an equity. The report was referred to the committee of rivers and canals.

Senate Reconvenes.
After thirty minutes of ease during which the house had talked itself into as serious a tangle as the senate on the same question, the senate reconvened. Senator Curtis' motion to table the Clark motion to non-concur in the house resolution was put to a standing vote which resulted in a tie, 21 to 21. The expedite business, Lieutenant Governor Oglesby cast the deciding vote to table.

Senator Curtis then moved to adopt the house resolution. Senator Etteson offered a substitute resolution eliminating the expression "joint session" contained in the house resolution, and providing merely that the house and senate meet in the house at 12:30 to see the vote canvassed.

Senator Etteson declared that the house resolution was plainly at variance with the constitution and the senators should not be bluffed out of their correct position.

Senator Waage declared there was no occasion for such bickering and the senate should stop flourishing removed to table the Etteson substitute.

On roll call the senate refused 21 to 22, to table the substitute. The Democrats voted solidly to table.

Senator Jones, speaking to the Etteson substitute, reported finding the attitude of the house to be respectful to what some of the members considered the desire of the senate to "lord it over" that branch. He deplored such an attitude, declaring it was not a question of relative dignity, but one of constitutionality of action. He thought the journal of each branch should show a quorum present when the vote on state officers is canvassed.

On the adoption of the Etteson substitute the roll call resulted: Ayes 22; nays 21. The Republicans voted solidly for the substitute except Curtis, who thought the senate would be severely criticized for going on record in the light of obstructive tactics. The Democrats voted no and the Progressives voted with the Republicans.

The senate adopted Senator Jonts' amendment changing the hour of meeting from 12:30 to add "or as soon thereafter as may be." On roll call the Etteson substitute was adopted 34 to 18. The Democrats voted against its adoption. A fifteen minute recess was taken to allow the secretary time to get the substitute resolution into form.

Senate First to Convene.
Governor Deneen's biennial message, which was prepared for presentation to the legislature Jan. 8, finally got before the assembly this morning, being presented by the governor's private secretary. The senate, first to convene, ordered five thousand copies printed.

The senate adopted a joint resolution offered by Senator Magill providing for adjournment today until 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

The joint inaugural committee met in Lieutenant Governor Oglesby's office immediately after the morning adjournment.

The senate declined to concur in the house joint resolution to meet in the house at 11 o'clock this morning to canvass the returns cast in the election last November. Senator Ray raised the question that four years ago Lieutenant Governor Sherman held that the senate and house were sitting as independent bodies and not as a specific act. To carry out the precedent the senate declined to consider the house resolution and adopted a resolution directing the secretary of the senate to notify the house that the senate would be there at 11 o'clock to witness the act of canvassing the vote.

Senator Clark offered a resolution exempting stenographers that have already served the senate ten years from the civil service examination of the senate. The resolution was offered in behalf of Mrs. Burkett who had served in the senate for several sessions. Senator Waage objected to the immediate consideration of the resolution and it went over to the next legislative day.

Governor Deneen submitted a list of appointments of notaries public, which under the rules, lie over one day.

Senator Landee offered a joint resolution making application to congress to call a convention to propose a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy and polygamists cohabitation in the United States, and requesting other legislators to join in the request. The resolution was prepared by the Illinois state W. C. T. U. It already has been adopted in twenty-two states.

Senator Hurlbush offered a resolution appointing Fred W. Rink enrolling and engrossing clerk of the senate, Theresa Baldi as first assistant, and Mrs. M. Powell as second assistant. Senator Jones wanted the resolution to lie over but it was adopted 49 to 2.

A joint resolution offered by Senator Curtis providing for the submission of a proposal for a constitutional convention was referred to the committee on constitutional amendments.

Senate Bill 1 (Clark). Appropriating $500 to paint a portrait of Lieutenant Governor Oglesby was advanced to third reading.

Senate Bill 16 (O'Connor). Appropriating $75,000 to pay employees of the general assembly was sent to the third reading.

Senate Bill 52 (O'Connor). Appropriating $6,500 for the incidental expense of the session was advanced to third reading.

Senator Magill's joint resolution offered yesterday ratifying the proposed amendment to the federal constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people was sent to the committee on constitutional amendments on motion of Senator Denvir. Senator Magill wanted immediate consideration but the Democrats and Progressives were opposed to it. They outvoted the Republican side 22 to 21.

Senate Bills Introduced.
Bills were introduced at the morning senate session as follows: Senate Bill 44 (Olson). Appropriation of $15,000 to complete the I. N. G. armory of the Third Illinois Infantry at Woodstock. Carries emergency clause. Appropriations. Senate Bill 50 (Barr). Changes the criminal code by making it possible to convict an agent in case of embezzlement or defalcation. Judiciary.

Senate Bill 49 (Barr). Authorizes circuit courts to transfer to county courts appeals from justices of the peace. Judiciary.

Senate Bill 52 (Curtis). County uniform text book bill. This measure was introduced at the request of several county superintendents of schools. Education.

Senate Bill 46 (Landee). Revising the roads and bridges act. The bill provides for a state highway commissioner to be appointed by the governor; a state highway engineer, and assistants, and a county road superintendent for each county. Cooperation between these SPRINGFIELD, ILL., JAN. 30.—Twenty-six murderers were today granted commutations of sentence by Governor Deneen upon recommendation of the state board of pardons. WASHINGTON, JAN. 30.—Presidential terms ranging all the way from two to six years, prohibitions against second terms, and third terms, exemptions that would affect Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson and proposals for the recall and the direct election of presidents were thrust into the senate today in rapid succession, during the first day's consideration of the constitutional amendment limiting a president to a single term of six years.

In a session filled with lively debate Senator Bristow's proposal that a president could be recalled at any regular election was voted down, 58 to 10 and Senator Hoke Smith's amendment to make the single term four years instead of six was defeated 42 to 25. More than a dozen amendments were pending when the senate took recess tonight and they will be taken up tomorrow.

Senators Dixon and Poindexter, Progressives; Bristow, Progressive-Republican and Lodge, Republican, lead the fight against a restriction of the presidential term. Senator Williams, Democrat, proposed a four year term, with the privilege of reelection once to prevent Roosevelt from seeking another election. The defeat of the Bristow amendment for recall of the president followed a short debate in which Senator Bristow urged that to make the federal administration properly responsible to public demand the people should have the right to change the president when they change congress. The vote of the recall amendment mustered ten votes only in its favor, following senators voting for it:

Ashurst, Bristow, Clapp, Dixon, Gronna and Poindexter, Progressives and Republicans; Martine, Owen, Perky and Thomas, Democrats.

The candidacies of Roosevelt, Wilson, Bryan and Taft figured in the fight throughout the day. Senator Borah said President Taft had not used the power of his office for his own re-election in 1912, to any greater extent than President Roosevelt had used it in 1908 for the election of Mr. Taft. Senator Dixon's charge that single six year term was desired chiefly by ambitious aspirants for the presidency and the declaration of Senators Bristow and Poindexter that this proposed limitation would be destructive of American principles of government made up the burden of the Progressive fight against the resolution. Senator Bristow declared the people should be free to choose their own president, to elect a president when they believed it wise. He declared the constitution should include a recall.

Anticipate Little Opposition.
Democratic leaders in the house expressed the view tonight that there would be no difficulty in getting the ways and means committee resolution. Senator Bristow declared the people should be free to choose their own president, to elect a president when they believed it wise. He declared the constitution should include a recall.

WILSON QUESTIONED ABOUT HIS CABINET

SEEMS TO ENJOY EFFORTS OF CORRESPONDENTS FOR NEWS

Says Both Men of Practical Experience in Public Affairs and Professional Men Are Under Consideration for Portfolios—Is "Trying to Make Up Team."

TRENTON, JAN. 30.—President-elect Wilson permitted himself to be questioned at great length by the correspondents to day about the make-up of his cabinet and seemingly enjoyed the efforts that were made to secure information from him. The governor, however, carefully avoided any disclosures.

Asked whether any names other than that of William J. Bryan had been suggested for the secretaryship of state, Mr. Wilson said:

"About a half a dozen."
To the inquiry as to these men might be, Mr. Wilson reflected for a moment, but replied that he could not recall off-hand, because of the stress of these individuals were grouped under lists of names suggested for other portfolios as well.

One of the correspondents asked Mr. Wilson if he intended to appoint to his cabinet men of practical experience in public affairs or professional men who had been in politics.

"Both sorts are under consideration," he answered and then added with a laugh, "but I am certainly not going to make up the cabinet of college presidents."

The governor said he had decided to follow the usual course of getting acceptances first before announcing his cabinet. He was asked whether he would make public the acceptances as they came in.

"No," he replied, "because I'm really trying to make up a team."

He intimated that possible declaration of a single port folio might make it necessary to redistribute the entire cabinet.

Expected for the visit of Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the house sub-committee on banking and currency, the governor devoted the day to New Jersey business. Mr. Glass gave Mr. Wilson an account of the progress of the public hearings before the banking and currency committee. "Mr. Glass pleased me," the governor said "by telling me that the attitude of the big bankers who appeared before the committee was an attitude of friendly co-operation."

While talking about banking reform, the governor remarked:

"When I said in my speech at Chicago, that the banking system of the country stood convicted I thought I was saying what everybody had said before. Sometimes one's commonplace starts the country."

Mr. Glass said after his conference with the governor that the new monetary bills would be ready for introduction during the extra session of congress. He added that he did not know when the hearings would close but that he had to day arranged for Sir Edmund Walker, head of the bank of Montreal Canada to appear before the committee on March 13th.

WILL NOT COMPETE WITH PARCEL POST.

New York, Jan. 30.—Interurban railroads will not find it advisable to develop express traffic in competition with the new parcel post mail service, according to opinions advanced today by speakers at the mid-year conference of the American Electric Railway association. Delegates from all parts of the country are attending the conference. It was asserted at today's session that interurban lines that handle mail will be confronted with a serious problem when the parcel post develops owing to the lack of cars of a proper type to carry both passengers and mail. Use of automobile trucks as a possible solution of the problem was discussed.

Forty committees of the association took up various problems, a majority of them of a technical nature.

SECURE WRIT FOR CASTRO.

New York, Jan. 30.—Counsel for Cipriano Castro late tonight secured a writ of habeas corpus from federal Judge Holt of the district court commanding that astro be brought before him at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

much trouble with it in the senate. The majority of the committee will begin framing the tentative legislation next Monday and count upon the Democrat caucus of the next house approving its work substantially as the committee reports it. So far there has been no formal conclusion as to any of the schedules as a whole, though the general policy has been indicated as to revising the rates to a reasonably competitive basis with revenue raising and saving to the consumer as primary factors.

The committee heard and tonight on the sundries schedule of the tariff and tomorrow the scene will shift to the free list the administrative provisions and miscellaneous tariff ideas. The testimony on the tariff sundries ranged from birds of Paradise to boots and shoes, and in the opinion of some of the majority leaders a transfer of those articles to the free list.

"We will levy a rate 10 low what it is now," Chairman Underwood said to witnesses, "I would be glad, if it could be done, to take off the tariff entirely, and to have the American importer go it and beat the foreigner."

SETTLEMENT MAY YET BE POSSIBLE

Compromise Offered by Young Turks Comes Near Meeting Demand

AEGEANS TO THE POWERS

Turks Would Leave Islands to Disposition of the Powers and Retain Shrines at Adrianople

GREEK PREMIER LEAVES TODAY

LONDON, JAN. 30.—The curtain may rise on the second act of the Balkan war next Monday.

The allies denounced the armistice at seven o'clock tonight if events take the prescribed course, the bombarding of Adrianople will follow after an interval of four days. Indeed, the bombardment has been scheduled for seven o'clock Monday evening.

Yet, even at this eleventh hour was is in no wise assured. Only a few hours before the allies proclaimed their decision the Ottoman government presented its reply to the joint note of the powers of January 17th.

Never has a diplomat's problem taken such a swift and surprising change as these negotiations for peace. The Young Turks who seized the government with show of defiance have undergone a marvelous transformation. Instead of drawing the battle line at the question of surrendering Adrianople they offer a compromise which comes so near meeting the Bulgarian demands that a settlement should not be impossible and they leave the Aegean Islands to the disposition of the powers.

Compromise May Be Found.
The difference between what Constantinople is ready to give and what Bulgaria is willing to accept has been reduced to such small proportions that even some of the Balkan delegates believe a compromise may be found.

Constantinople now asks simply the retention of that section of Adrianople where the Holy Shrines are situated. Bulgaria always meant to leave the Mosques and Shrines to Turkey and even to confer the right of extra-territoriality, thus giving them something of the status of the Vatican in Rome. The vital differences between the two nations amount to Turkey's demanding the Shrines and the sections surrounding them.

The Thracian frontier, therefore with the exception of the city of Adrianople, has practically been agreed as Turkey is ready to leave the powers the disposition of the land on the right bank of the Maritza river which conditions, as is known the allies are satisfied to accept.

question of the Aegean Islands also practically has been solved as the porte is disposed to leave them to the powers. Dr. Daneff head of the Bulgarian delegation said with reference to Turkey's reply.

"It is not of a character to form the basis for fresh negotiations."

Do Not Want War.
This, however, simply is a public statement possibly for the purpose of exercising further pressure on Constantinople. A majority of the allies apparently trust that a compromise will be reached.

All the powers have urged the allies to do their utmost to prevent the resumption of hostilities, because of the grave complications that otherwise might arise. Whatever happens the Greek premier, M. Venizelos will leave London tomorrow. He will visit friends in the country and expects to depart from England Saturday or Sunday.

M. Novakovich, head of the Serbian delegation has arranged to go home in a day or two but will return if the negotiations are resumed.

Dr. Daneff will leave the beginning of next week.

The ambassadorial conference will meet tomorrow morning to consider the porte's reply.

Joint Inaugural Committee.

The house concurred in the senate joint resolution No. 1, providing for the appointment of a joint inaugural committee of six members from each house. Speaker McKinley named on the part of the house, Messrs. Farrell, Garsche, Rowe, King, Provine and Kleeman.

The speaker announced that the joint committee would meet in the lieutenant governor's room on the senate side immediately after adjournment today.

The house concurred in senate joint resolution No. 11, providing that when the two houses adjourn today they stand adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The house received Governor Deeney's biennial message and without reading it ordered 5,000 copies printed for the use of the members.

Representative Smejkal offered joint house resolution No. 1, providing for a joint session of the two houses at 11 o'clock today to canvass the vote cast at the November election for state offices. The resolution was adopted.

The most cheerful news so far in the forty-eighth general assembly reached the house members at today's session when Clerk McCann announced that their pay for the session would be available in the state treasurer's office at 11:30 a. m. today. Cheers greeted the clerk's announcement.

Many Democrats Surprised.

William O'Donnell, the political advisor of Governor-elect Dunne, who has been the new executive's personal emissary in the speaker's deadlock, received news of Speaker McKinley's election yesterday on the train between Springfield and Chicago. According to the story in circulation here to day Mr. O'Donnell decided to return to Chicago yesterday following adjournment of the morning session at which Rapp was whittled down to fifty one votes and finally withdrew from the race. At the St. Nicholas hotel, before leaving the capitol, Mr. O'Donnell is said to have told several of the members who had been voting for Rapp that the deadlock would not be broken this week. Accepting the word of the new Governor's emissary as official many of the Democrats who were not on the inside of the new order of things in the house were not prepared for the unexpected upheaval and consequently greatly surprised when the break came.

Joint Session Controversy.

Representative Shanahan, the Republican floor leader, started the trouble when he moved that the house refuse to concur in the substitute resolution sent over from the senate.

"A time honored resolution was passed by the house for a joint assembly to canvass the returns," said Shanahan. "It was unanimously passed and went to the senate. The senate did not see fair to act upon that resolution. They adopted a resolution of their own wherein they notified the house that the senate will assemble at 11 o'clock and witness the canvass of this vote."

"Up to four years ago the resolution just passed by the house had always been acceptable to the senate. Four years ago there was talk that the returns sent in by the election officers would be cast aside and someone else declared elected governor. Accordingly four years ago the Senate came over here merely to witness the canvass of the vote."

"At this time there is no talk of casting aside the returns. The senate by its action has not even acknowledged the receipt of the house resolution," say, gentlemen, it is time we proceed we are a dignified manner and I insist that it is the duty of this house to reject this resolution and have the senate adopt the resolution sent over by the house. I insist that they come over here as has been the custom for many years and canvass the vote. This house will make a mistake to adopt the senate resolution and if they trail over here one by one and not as an official body, I move that the house refuse to concur."

Representative McKinley agrees with Shanahan. Representative Ashton said he did not have in mind the constitutional provision in question and would like to have it read. Representative Butts had a copy of the constitution before him and read it for the information of the house. At this point Representative Rapp came into the controversy declaring that he saw an opportunity to delay the inaugural on Monday.

Might Delay Inauguration.

"From a reading of the resolution said Mr. Rapp, 'sent by the senate it is in compliance with the constitution. I can see where the house is liable to delay the inaugural if we fail to agree. It seems to me a mere matter of technical dignity should not be permitted to delay the inaugural."

Browne secured recognition at this time and voiced his opinion of the senate motion as follows:

Senate is Criticized.

"I don't go much on a question of dignity myself, but I have been here long enough to realize what the attitude of the senate is toward the house and always has been, since I have been here. I have seen men come here to the house and serve one or two sessions and be a really good, ordinary American citizen. I have seen them elected to the place across the hall and then they donned a Prince Albert and you have a card and a servant to get them to say 'how do you do' and it is not warranted by any massive intellect accumulated, but rather along the line of a supercilious disregard of the house people."

"It is immaterial to me but it looks to me though the position taken by the gentleman from Cook is the one that ought to be acquired in by every member of this house. The senators will send a mass of stuff over here that they have passed and they will expect you to pass all those bills because they have. You go over there with some little bill dear to you passed over here and all the courtesy and consideration you will get unless there is some ulterior motive will be represented by a ruffless cipher. That has been their attitude until within my recollection we have had to table every senate bill that came into this house until they came across and woke up."

"Supposing it does delay the inauguration a day or two: What of it? Is there anything more important than the position of these two houses. Is the inauguration or the dignity of some man of more consequence to you than filling the position you are filling as men. You are members of the house; it is true, but you occupy just the same position as these 'sentimental' across the hall and it is time to say so."

Tice Explains Situation.

At this point Mr. Tice asked for recognition and said in part: "If I understand this resolution as read to the house it does not provide for a meeting of the senate and the house, and the terms not only imply but provided by the constitutional provision. It simply said that the senate notified you along certain lines and if we adopt this resolution we simply adopt a resolution which says we are notified of such and such a thing."

Representative Tice called attention to a constitutional provision that provided in case of tie on the election of any state officer that the person to fill such office shall be elected by joint ballot. He contended that this meant that there should be a joint session and that the senate should not merely assemble to witness the canvass.

At this juncture Mr. Rapp said he thought that the matter of form as to what shape the notice or resolution shall be in was immaterial. Continuing he said: "If you refuse to follow the precedent of four years ago on account of dignity we may switch back and forth on this dignity and our dignity and we will be here tomorrow and the next day. I think the motion of the gentleman should be laid on the table and move to so lay it."

Mr. Wilson explained his vote on the matter in advance by saying "I am of the opinion of Mr. Tice that if there should be a tie it could only be decided by joint ballot and there must be a joint meeting of the two houses. I am not here to throw bricks at the senate and the vote I shall cast on this proposition will not be actuated by a feeling of hostility, but merely because I do believe there resolution is in conformity to the constitution."

Representative Hull informed the house that he had just had a conference with some of the senators and learned that there was no reason why the house should not decline to act upon the resolution because if the resolution was rejected the senate would then act on the house resolution and all would be settled in order.

Representative Kleeman called attention to the fact that it was more than dignity at stake, that it was a question of the legal acts of the acts of the Governor for the next four years, because if there was a question about the canvass on the vote or the inauguration his official acts might be assailed in the Supreme Court.

Representative Rapp then withdrew his motion to table and the house rejected the senate resolution.

Proceedings Interest Wilson.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 30.—Reports of the organization of the Illinois legislature with the election of a speaker interested President-elect Wilson greatly today.

With respect to the contest for the United States senatorship he was told that despatches from Illinois stated that Charles Boeschstein, Democratic national committeeman, might be chosen, instead of J. Hamilton Lewis, who was the Democratic primary choice.

"They can't back out on the primary choice," Mr. Wilson commented.

One of the correspondents inquired about the report that recognition by minority patronage had been promised to Progressives who held the balance of power in the Illinois legislature if they supported Democrats for United States senators.

"I have made absolutely no promises of patronage to anybody," Mr. Wilson answered.

Bentonville, Ark., Jan. 30.—James H. Berry, former United States senator and former governor and a confederate veteran, who lost a leg at Corinth, Miss., died at his home here today after a long illness. He was 72 years old.

GRACE CHURCH REVIVAL.

"Titles Examined" was the subject of the sermon at Grace church revival last night. There was something for every one. The text was from Math. . . . The service was one of great earnestness.

During his discourse Rev. Mr. Miller emphasized the vital importance of a clear understanding of what constituted being a Christian. There were many in Christ's time who thought they were accepted of God but were called whited sepulchres by Christ. They were the people who advocated His being put to death. There are many to day who think they are Christians who measure themselves by some poor weak type of Christian life instead of measuring themselves by the Bible standard. They are deceiving themselves and are in great danger. Christ said, "Many shall say in that day have we not prophesied in thy name and in thy name have cast out devils and done many wonderful works? Then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me ye workers of iniquity." If men who have exercised the gift of prophecy in Christ's name shall come short what of many who to day seldom mention to any one their interest in Christ? If those who have cast out their devils in the name of Christ all what chance have those who never seem to care whether the devils get into their friends or neighbors and spoil their lives? Rev. Mr. Miller said that it was one of the great purposes of the meeting to clear up cloudy titles. If there was any one in the church who was not clear as to his acceptance with God, by all means get out into the clear light of faith and grace.

There was some fine singing. The chorus is getting acquainted with the new book and are beginning to bring the music out of the grand gospel songs. Miss Stella Shuff sang a very fine number entitled "Somebody Cares."

Rev. Mr. Spoonst assisted in the service with a closing prayer. To day will be spent by many of the church people in personal calls. If the weather is favorable one hundred calls will be made during the day by the workers.

The subject of the sermon tonight at the revival will be "What's the Difference?" Everybody is welcome.

MASS MEETING AT LABOR TEMPLE

PROPOSED CONTRACT BY WATER COMPANY IS DISCUSSED.

Large Audience Hears Important Phrases of Proposition Soon to Be Voted Upon, By Well Known Citizens — Commissioner Spaulding of Springfield Among Speakers.

Thursday evening at the Labor Temple on South Mauvalterre street a mass meeting was held under the auspices of the Trades & Labor Assembly when the question of the proposed contract between the city and water company was discussed. Commissioner Spaulding of Springfield, Attorney J. A. Bellatti, Commissioner Newman and Robert Smith of South Diamond street were among the speakers and at the close of the discussion the assembly extended a vote of thanks to the speakers.

Commissioner Newman, J. E. Rodgers, president of the Trades Assembly, presided at the meeting and the first speaker was Commissioner Newman. Mr. Newman said that he had heard it mentioned that the proposed contract was a partnership affair and that the city would assume the liabilities of the company in making a contract with them. He explained that this was not the case and that the city would receive one-half of the gross receipts of the company for water. "Before the contract was made," he said, "the matter was laid before Mr. Bellatti and he gave the opinion that it was perfectly legal. By making this contract the suits now pending in court will be abolished and I think that the vote in favor of the ordinance should be nearly unanimous."

Address By Attorney Bellatti. When introduced by the chair Mr. Bellatti said that he did not expect to give a speech, but to answer questions. "It will probably be well to review the situation," said Mr. Bellatti. "When the original contract was made in 1904 the council did not take into consideration the wishes of the people, did not submit the question to the vote of the people. When this agreement was drawn up the commissioners said that it would not be made a contract until it was ratified by the vote of the people." Mr. Bellatti reviewed the situation from the first contract with the company and continuing said: "While I believe that the city has the advantage in the suits against it, my thirty-six years experience as a lawyer has taught me that no man can forecast the result of any trial. One reason that I am in favor of a compromise is that this contract will end all litigation and will eliminate the chance of the city losing its plant which is worth $300,000, a plant that was established and built by the voters of Jacksonville and not the council. During the three years fight there have been suggestions looking toward a settlement and they always came from the water company, and have contained the provision that the city should turn over its plant. While the proposed contracts contained this clause they were never given any consideration. But when Mr. Mackey suggested a compromise along the lines of the city retaining its plant, it was suggested that the city prepare for an armistice and get rid of the pending suit if possible. The question was whether to concede a little and get them to release all claim on the plant."

City Big Gainer. "In the pending contract the city doesn't give up very much considering what it gains by it. There was a claim on the whole property of the city, how good that claim is I don't know, but it was thought better to concede a little than to run the chance of losing the entire plant. At the end of the eighteen months if the water company succeeds in supplying the city with water, the city will be out only one-half of the proceeds for the water, with the possibility that if the company sells water to another town, the city will get half of the proceeds. At the end of the eighteen months, if the city doesn't see fit to make another contract they will not have to and if they do want to make another contract there will not be anything pending to influence them in accepting terms. I do not want to advise any man as to how to cast his ballot, I merely want to answer any questions that you may ask me and then let you decide the matter for yourselves."

Speakers Answer Questions. In answer to a query from Mr. F. H. Bodie as to what the city conceded in the matter Mr. Bellatti said that the city merely conceded to the company the right to supply it with water for eighteen months, agreeing to pay one-half of the revenue received for it; that the city does not give any franchise and does not pay for any water that is used in flushing sewers, at fires or in flushing hydrants.

Valter N. Smith asked if the contract meant that the city entered into a partnership with the water company. Mr. Bellatti replied that the law provides that no person or corporation can form a partnership with a city. Mr. Smith also said that when the company first laid their pipes they had quite a little trouble and asked if the city would be held in any way responsible if the company should see fit to relay the pipe, raising the money with a bond issue, fail to meet the contract and then the people should ask for their money. Mr. Bellatti replied that the city would not be responsible for any of the company's liabilities.

M. Heffernan: "In the suit against the city didn't the company say that they had fulfilled their contract and they did not get a square deal?"

Mr. Bellatti: "Yes, that was their contention."

Mr. Heffernan: "Isn't going into this contract for eighteen months granting them another trial?"

Mr. Bellatti: "Yes, it is in one sense of the word."

Mr. Heffernan: "For eighteen months the city will pay them about $9,000 for the water."

Mr. Bellatti: "It might amount to that much. If they sell as much as now they would receive $15,000 for eighteen months."

Mr. Heffernan: "Then you might say that for $15,000 the company releases all claim on the city's property."

Mr. Bellatti: "That isn't what they are making the contract for. They merely want to show the city that they can supply the water and at the end of that time make another contract to furnish the water to the city."

Mr. Heffernan: "Suppose they make good, don't they stand a better chance to make the city contract with them?"

Mr. Bellatti: "No. They are not granted a trial. It is simply a contract that is to cease at the end of eighteen months."

Mr. Heffernan: "At the end of that time the city can sever all relations with the water company."

Mr. Bellatti: "Of course, and if the city does want to enter into another contract with the company, it will be free and independent in the matter."

Mr. Heffernan: "How about the Widenham-Daub wells? If the city should wish could it resume operation of them?"

Mr. Bellatti: "Yes, if the city is not satisfied at the end of the stated time and does not want to make another contract with the water company, it may pursue any course it may see fit, to get water for the city."

Commissioner Newman said that Mr. Mackey is of the opinion that after the people use the water for eighteen months they will find it so good that they will want it and that it will not only pay the city but also pay the company.

Robert Smith. Robert Smith of South Diamond street, one of the men opposed to the contract, was next introduced by the president and he argued for some time against the proposed contract on the ground that it was unjust to the stockholders and bondholders of the company, taking advantage of them at a time when the company has not even enough money to pay its attorneys fees.

Com. Spaulding of Springfield. Commissioner Spaulding of Springfield was next introduced by the president of the assembly and he spoke substantially as follows: "I am very deeply interested in the question which confronts you. I am a firm believer in municipal ownership of public service utilities, and while in our city we own our water works there are several other public service utilities that we do not own. We need public utilities as we require the streets to be clean and also require police and fire protection and while it may be necessary in some cases for the city to farm out some of its public utilities to corporations, that condition should not exist any longer than possible. To my mind the public service utilities can be made to bless humanity more than it does and for the same amount of money. Our water plant belongs to the city and it has fallen my lot to manage it for the past four years. I believe in municipal ownership and have tried to make it an example of good business administration. Our income has increased and we have tried to make the service better and more easily available to the people."

We are now developing our supply in such a manner that we will always have enough, getting it from the sand beds of the river. We are rebuilding the pumping station and the machinery at a cost of about $15,000 and we have not found it necessary to float any bonds to do it. Our income is about $135,000 annually and our expenses about $50,000, so you can see that we have a good substantial balance. We expect to be able to reduce our rates soon. As I see it I think you have a good chance to make a good contract with the water company."

Will Introduce Bill. Mr. Bodie said that in the next legislature there would probably be a bill introduced which would give cities the power to bond their public service utilities and said that he thought the labor organizations ought to instruct the representatives from their districts to work for the passage of such a bill.

After an informal discussion of several legislative matters, including the proposed measure to create a state public service utilities commission, a vote of thanks was extended to the speakers and the meeting adjourned.

CASTRO IS DENIED ADMISSION TO U. S.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF VENEZUELA MUST LEAVE AT ONCE

Venezuelan's Refused to Answer Question Put by Immigration Officials is Cause of Deportation Order By Secretary Nagle.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 30.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela was today denied admission to the United States as a visitor by Charles Nagle, secretary of commerce and labor. The Venezuelans' unwavering refusal to answer the question whether, while president of his country, he was a party to the killing of General Parades was the cause of Secretary Nagle's order for his deportation.

The cabinet minister sustained the adverse report of the immigration authorities against Castro on the ground that his declaration to answer "may in itself constitute an admission of a felony." The immigration law bars from entry any person convicted of, or admitting the commission of any crime involving moral turpitude, providing it is not purely a political offense. The secretary held that the murder of Parades was not purely a political crime.

Further the secretary declared that an alien was compelled to answer "yes" or "no" any pertinent question regarding his admissibility. If permitted to refuse the secretary maintained that "the immigration service might just as well adjourn."

The alleged information against Castro was furnished the department of commerce and labor by the state department and Secretary Nagle admits in his decision that to the state department's action Castro probably would have been admitted without question.

MAY END WABASH TRUST

United States District Judge Walter H. Sanborn of St. Louis soon will appoint a special master to hear evidence and determine methods for the foreclosure of the first and refunding mortgages of the Wabash Railroad Company, for which the Equitable Trust company of New York is trustee. His appointment will be the first step in proceedings to end the receivership of the line.

The announcement of the almost complete rehabilitation of the road was made at a conference of receivers and attorneys with Judge Sanborn. Judge Sanborn, at the conference, granted the line permission to participate in the reorganization of the Chicago Belt Line Railway.

The belt line will operate the Chicago terminals and belts tracks of the Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad partly owned by the Wabash. It is planned to make all lines entering Chicago members of the belt line and to spend large sums elevating its tracks and improving it in other ways. The Wabash receivers said in their petition, will receive dividends of at least 6 per cent on an investment of $240,000. Attorneys for the trust company consented to the participation of the Wabash in the reorganization.

Those attending the conference say the work of the special master may not require more than two months, and the Wabash may be released from the receivership in a short time. The receivership became effective in December, 1911, and since then W. K. Bixby, F. A. Delano and F. B. Pryor, receivers, have expended millions received from receivers' certificates, in bettering the property of the road.

CHOSE BEST BOOTS.

Wednesday afternoon there was displayed in front of the shoe store of Frost & Nolley several pairs of rubber boots. While it was still day light some one having no fear of the law in their heart, saw the tempting foot wear and without being detected made away with one pair of the boots. "The price tickets attached to the various pairs of boots were marked in plain figures and the thief showed excellent taste and good judgment in making his selection, and took the highest price pair on the line, price $4.50. If after a fair trial the thief finds the boots satisfactory and he can conscientiously recommend the brand, the firm would greatly appreciate having him call at their store and leave his address so that they may be able to refer prospective customers of the excellence of their wares as testified to by him.

REGULATIONS FOR LENT

Rules Recommended By the Roman Catholic Church to Its Members.

All days of Lent from Ash Wednesday, February 5, to Easter Sunday excepted, are fast days of obligation.

By dispensation, flesh meat maybe eaten at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesday's, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the Saturday in Ember and Holy week, which fall this year respectively on February 15th and March 22d.

The use of fish and flesh-meat is forbidden at the same meal even on Sundays during Lent. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year and not yet begun their sixtieth, are bound to fast and abstain on the days appointed unless dispensed by their confessor. He should be consulted in case of doubt regarding the obligation.

The sick, the very poor, pregnant women, and in general, all who because of their age, cannot last without detriment to their health, are exempted from fasting. Persons exempted from fasting are not restricted in the use of meat on the days when it is allowed by dispensation at the principal meal. On such days they may eat it at every meal.

Those obliged to fast are restricted to one full meal in the day which usually should not be taken before noon, and to an evening collation not exceeding the fourth part of an ordinary meal. When the principal meal cannot be taken conveniently at noon, the order may be inverted; then the collation may be taken about noon; the dinner, in the evening. Custom allows coffee, chocolate or tea with a small piece of bread not exceeding two ounces in the morning.

Necessity and custom have authorized the use of lard and other fat rendered from any kind of meat, instead of butter, in preparing fish, vegetables, etc., on all days during Lent, and upon all days of fast and abstinence throughout the year.

On March 15, 1908, the Holy See granted the bishops of the United States, a special indulgent for ten years, by virtue of which they can dispense workmen and their families, permitting them to eat meat once a day on all days of fast and abstinence throughout the year, except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Wednesday and Saturday in Holy Week and the Vigil of Christmas. They are not however, permitted the use of fish and flesh meat at the same meal.

WOMEN IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

How women have advanced from the educational ranks to the highest administrative positions in the public schools is interestingly revealed in figures just compiled by the United States bureau of education. Four states—Colorado, Idaho, Washington, and Wyoming have women at the head of their state school systems, and there are now 495 women county superintendents in the United States, nearly double the number of ten years ago.

In some states women appear to have almost a monopoly of the higher positions in the public school system. Wyoming has a woman state superintendent; the deputy state superintendent is a woman; and of the fourteen counties in the state, all but one are directed educationally by women. In Montana where there are thirty counties, only one man is reported as holding the position of county superintendent.

The increase in the number of women county superintendents is most conspicuous in the west, but is not confined to that section. New York reports forty-two women "district superintendents," as against twelve "school commissioners" in 1900. Other states showing marked increases are—Idaho, from thirteen in 1900 to 44 in 1912; Kansas, from twenty-six in 1900 to 49 in 1912; Nebraska, from ten to forty-two in the same period; North Dakota from ten to twenty-four; Oklahoma, seven to fourteen. In only two states is a decrease reported—Tennessee had nine in 1900 and only five in 1912, and Utah has one less than a decade ago.

Together with the advancement of women in the administrative branch of education has come a demand for women on local school boards, and this demand has been recognized in many communities. The following cities of 100,000 population or over report one or more women on the school board: New York, Chicago, Cleveland, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Washington, Indianapolis, Rochester, St. Paul, Denver, Columbus, Worcester, Grand Rapids, Cambridge, and Fall River. Numerous smaller municipalities have adopted the idea.

The important place assigned to women in American education has become so usual as to excite little comment in this country; yet American conditions in this respect are the reverse of those of most nations. It is probably safe to say that in no other country in the world are there as many women teachers proportionally as in the United States; in fact men teachers greatly outnumbered the women in most European countries.

Edward Standley of Joy Prairie was a visitor in the city yesterday.

GOV. DENEEN'S LAST WORD TO LEGISLATURE

Retiring Executive's Recommendations to Solons.

NUMEROUS SUBJECTS HANDLED

Review of the Departments of State During His Administration.

Reorganization and Regeneration of the State Charitable Institutions—
Railroad and Warehouse Commission—
Laws Affecting Insurance—
The Deep Waterway.

Governor Deneen's message is a long one, containing an exhaustive review of the departments of the State during his entire administration. Its main features are as follows:

Finance.
The cash balances of the General Revenue Fund on hand January 1, 1913, are $4,258,664.21.

The cash balances on hand other than general revenue fund are $1,012,556.39.

The tax rate for 1912 is 38 cents; for State revenue fund 10 cents; State school fund 9 cents; Illinois University fund 10 cents.

The various departments of State during the Governor's administration have turned over to the State Treasury up to January 13, 1913, approximately $600,000 in interest.

Public Charities.

The Governor's message reviews the reorganization and regeneration of the State charitable institutions during his term and the placing of them on a scientific and curative basis. Under the bill for complete State care over 5,000 insane persons have been removed from county institutions and Dunning and placed under State care. The message commends the creation of the State Board of Administration and states that it has saved to the State through economy of administration during the years 1910 and 1911 $483,106.89, as well as improving the service. The Governor recommends that the jurisdiction of the Board of Administration be extended to the penal institutions, because of the similarity of their business administration and the relations now existing between these institutions because of the manufacture by the penal institutions of supplies for the charitable institutions.

The Governor recommends the creation of a colony for epileptics and a sanatorium for consumptives; and also the new insane hospital at Alton.

The Governor states that the State now cares for 19,000 wards and that these will be doubled and tripled in the near future. He calls attention to the fact that the net increase of insane alone per year is about 400. He recommends that the commission appointed make a survey of the needs of the State in connection with its care for defective, delinquent and aging persons to report to the General Assembly a plan or scheme for the purchasing of sites and other matters incident to the administration of this branch of the public business that will reduce the cost of maintenance to the minimum and enable the State to make the charitable institutions as nearly as possible self-supporting. He states that the State will have the burden soon of caring for a standing army of afflicted persons and that a general plan should be made so that as institutions are created and new buildings are erected they may fall into a harmonious scheme or plan of development.

Civil Service.

The message refers to the civil service and states that 80 per cent of state employees are now under civil service, compared with 60 per cent of employees under the federal government and 30 per cent of those in Wisconsin. He states that Illinois leads all states in this regard and recommends that the law be extended to clerks and watchmen and other positions routine in the character of their work and in which efficiency and quality of service are dependent upon security of employment.

Penal Institutions.

In discussing the penal institutions the Governor states that there are in the reformatory at Pontiac about 680 persons. That the plant was built to accommodate a population of 1,000. The Governor suggests that a better classification of prisoners would permit the utilization of the reformatory facilities afforded by this institution and recommends that the age limit for admission be made 16 to 25 years.

Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

Referring to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission the Governor states that laws have been passed for the inspection of equipment and operation of safety appliances on all railroads; for the equipment of railroads with automatic couplers and continuous brakes. The message recalls the reduction of passenger fares from 3 cents to 2 cents per mile; the law authorizing the State to define the kind of crossing of one railroad by another and states that more overhead and subway crossings have been ordered by the commission during the last eight years than in all the former history of the State.

The message also refers to the law to regulate the size and manner of construction of caboose cars; the law requiring the carriers of freight to maintain sidetracks for the accommodation of shippers and receivers of freight; laws to punish persons drinking intoxicating liquors on railroad trains and laws for uniform bills of lading, uniform warehouse receipts and for a complete codification of the railroad and warehouse law.

Power has also been given to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission to prescribe rules and regulations for the installing of telegraph and telephone wires; requiring railroads to install and maintain physical connection at crossings and junctions for the interchange of business; authority to establish joint through rates for the movement of freight cars over two or more railroads; compelling railroads to file tariff schedules with Railroad and Warehouse Commission; that no increase of rates shall be permitted to become effective in less than 30 days after the date of filing the same; requiring railroads to provide reasonable facilities at all stations on their lines for the transaction of business; preventing railroads from discontinuing station or track facilities without the consent of the commission; the placing of express companies under the jurisdiction of the commission.

The Governor states that the decisions and rulings of the commission have been published in book form and that bulletins are issued periodically regarding such decisions for the information of the public and shippers; that inspectors have been at work for six months investigating car service and supply and recommends that the commission be authorized and street railroad companies be compelled to supply information which will enable the public to ascertain their bonded indebtedness, income and expenditures. The message recommends that before the issuance of railroads of additional stocks and bonds for the improvement and extension purposes, a proper showing be made to the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of the necessity thereof and that the issue does not exceed the reasonable cost of improvement and extension and requiring the approval of the commission. It also recommends that the Railroad and Warehouse Commission be given jurisdiction over the crossing of railroads over highways and of highways over railroads, and that railroads seeking permission to incorporate must file with the commission duplicate copies of the documents filed with the Secretary of State.

Grain Inspection.

The message states that the system of inspecting grain has been completely revolutionized and placed on a scientific basis by the abandonment of track inspections for office inspections. The message states that complaints have ceased to be made by shippers and dealers in grain and that the grain receipts in Chicago have increased 40 per cent by reason of the changes effected, and that Illinois has today the best inspection in the country.

University of Illinois.

The message gives an exhaustive review of the work of the University of Illinois and gives the facts showing the present condition of the School of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station in reference to the extension work, experiments, stations, soil surveys and experiment fields, together with a general review of the work of each department of the State University. The message recommends the creation of a legislative reference bureau at the University of Illinois, stating that it can be removed to Springfield during the sessions of the General Assembly.

The message states that the funds of the university will be increased by reason of the 1 mill tax about $500,000 per year. That the General Assembly should consider the university as a whole and its future growth in making plans for its future development. In a number of places in the message the Governor suggests that the university should do the scientific work of the State in reference to legislation and investigation. The part of his message relating to the university is more exhaustive than has been submitted to any previous Legislature.

Education.

Referring to the work of the educational commission, the Governor says that its work has led to a complete codification of the school law and caused fourteen amendments to be made which have improved the administration of the school system. The message recites the history of a provision of the 2 mill tax and its removal in 1873 by the substitution of an annual appropriation of $1,000,000. It recommends that the 2 mill tax be restored because more than 1,000 districts and sometimes entire counties are unable to raise funds for the maintenance of efficient schools. The message states that compared with other states, Illinois is far behind in the relative amount appropriated by the State for public school expenses. New Jersey appropriates 68 per cent, Kentucky 69 per cent, California 54 per cent, Pennsylvania 22 per cent, Wisconsin 21 per cent, Indiana 20 per cent and Illinois 2.9 per cent for school purposes.

The Governor commends the work of the township high schools and the State normal schools. States that Illinois has 30,366 teachers employed in the public schools, and only 14,252 of these have had as much as a high school education.

Insurance.

The message recites the laws which have been passed effecting a complete revision of the law of life insurance and refers to the 17 laws enacted for this purpose. The Governor discusses the work of the commission appointed to investigate fire insurance conditions of the State and their recommendations and recommends that stock companies should be required to have an unimpaired capital of at least $100,000 on deposit with the department as security for policy holders. The message states that assessment life insurance companies should not be permitted to organize in this State, nor should assessment life associations of other states be permitted to enter Illinois to transact business. The message discusses at length the law relating to fraternal beneficiary societies and states that a law should be passed permitting fraternal orders to have two classes of beneficiaries, permitting one to pay the rates favored by the National Fraternal Congress and the other to pay rates sufficient to meet death losses as they accrue. If such a division of membership should be permitted by the statutes and each class of members, including new members, should be permitted to retain and use its own funds without reference to the other class, it would, in the Governor's opinion, solve a most perplexing problem. The message recommends the enactment of special provisions for life and accident policies along lines of the present law affecting policies of life insurance.

The message recommends a strong anti-discrimination law applicable to fire insurance companies doing business in this State.

The message presents the work of the Illinois State Geological Survey in detail. It discusses its progress and states that our mineral output is $145,524,000 per year.

Illinois-Michigan Canal.

The Governor refers to the communications received from the Attorney-General and the assistant Attorney-General of the United States relative to the federal government requiring the State of Illinois to place the canal in its original condition as a water highway and gives the correspondence. The message states also that the Morton Salt Company of Chicago has begun the shipment of its products over the canal and that barges are being constructed for more extensive shipments next year. It also states that the canal can be restored to its old condition without great expense, but says that it would require approximately one million dollars for improvements of a modern type and character and of permanent benefit. The commission has made a survey of the freight that is offered to the canal and states that the tolls would amount to approximately $200,000 per year if the canal were put into condition to be used more extensively.

Rivers and Lakes Commission.

The work of the Rivers and Lakes Commission is stated in great detail in reference to stream improvement, water power development, land reclamation and river drainage, embracing the drainages of the Mississippi River, the Rock River, the Illinois River, the Kankakee River, the Des Plaines River, the Fox River, the Sangamon River, the Kaskaskia River, the Big Muddy River, the Ohio River, the Wabash River, the Embarras River and the Little Wabash River.

The Deep Waterway.

The Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway has been discussed and the facts regarding it presented; together with the correspondence between the President of the United States and the Governor. The Governor sets forth the improvements which are being conducted by the federal government on the Ohio River, the Missouri River, the Mississippi River, the Chicago River and Lake Michigan. The governor also recites the work of the Sanitary District of Chicago and the City of Chicago. This part of the message is a comprehensive statement of the situation and the Governor adheres to his former policy in reference to waterway construction and water-power development.

The Governor recites the resolution passed by Congress in reference to violation of laws on Lake Michigan; and recommends that a commission be appointed to confer with states bordering on Lake Michigan.

Game Department.

The message states that the Game Department has been self-supporting since the Governor assumed office.

Refers to the game farm and states that Illinois does more in the way of purchase, propagation, and distribution of game birds than all other states combined.

State Architect.

Referring to the State Architect's Department the Governor gives the name of each building erected, the contractor who did the work, and the amount paid for doing it during his administration and states that the immense amount of work done was accomplished without any serious accidents and carried on with practically no friction with labor unions or similar organizations. He states that this offers a remarkable and gratifying contrast with the experience with the building world in general. The amount expended was approximately ten million dollars.

State Historical Library.

Referring to the Illinois State Historical Library the Governor gives a tentative list of volumes to be published in the Illinois State Historical collections which is divided into the ethnological series, the French series, the British series, the Virginia series, the statistical series, executive series, judicial series, documentary series, political series, Lincoln series, economic series, military series, ecclesiastical series, educational series, settlement series. It is a striking resume of the activities of the State in preserving historical information.

Laws for Social Betterment.

In discussing this subject, the Governor refers to the laws which have been passed during his administration relating to: 1. Child Labor; 2. Employment of Women; 3. The Health, Comfort and Safety Machine; 4. The Hazardous and Dangerous Machinery Act; 5. The Safety Appliance Act; 6. The Structural Iron Workers' Act; 7. Revision of the Mining Laws; 8. Occupational Diseases Act; 9. Vocational Training and Education Act; 10. Workmen's Compensation Act; 11. Sweatshop Act; 12. The Creation of Free Employment Agencies.

The message states that Illinois has taken an advanced position in all these matters and is fully abreast of the times and conditions in dealing with the problems of our new industrial development. These laws have stood the test of experience because for the most part they have passed after careful investigation by commissions appointed for that purpose. That these commissions represent all interests concerned in their investigations and that their work has avoided the theories of those who are not familiar with the practical conditions confronting industry.

The messages recommend: that the policy be pursued in the future of having the different interests in business and industry meet and adjust their difficulties in so far as such adjustment is possible between them. The Governor comments on the fact that the businesses which have been affected by these laws have not been disturbed and little friction has occurred therein during his administration by reason of the friendly relations which have been created and maintained by the joint study of conditions affecting industries placed under the supervision or regulation by the state.

Recommendations.

The Governor recommends the appointment of a commission composed of state officials and representatives of the University of Illinois to investigate plans for the co-ordination of existing Boards and Commissions whose duties overlap or are so similar as to permit of unification and reduction in number while improving their methods and the economy of their administration.

Amendments to the Constitution.

Regarding the amendments to the constitution the Governor states that the Democratic platform endorsed four amendments to the constitution. The Progressive party nine, and the Republican party one, that is, the amending of the amending clause of the constitution. He calls attention to the fact that amendments heretofore have failed because those favoring amendments could not agree upon the order of precedence and suggests that if no such amendment is had in this session there should be an amendment of the amending clause of the constitution.

Regarding a constitutional convention, the Governor recommends the appointment of a commission to make a survey of each unit of the State government and each branch of the State service and that its report should give a complete history of the condition, laws, and administration of each unit of our government and branch of the public service, that it should show the relation of each unit of government to others of like kind, and should point out overlapping and conflicting jurisdictions and service and make recommendations wherein administration can be simplified and made more economical. The report of the commission should also point out how similar conditions in laws and administration have been met and improved in other states and countries and should make such recommendations along lines of co-ordination and will enable the state to perform its work more simply, easily, promptly, economically, and usefully. Efforts in this direction are at present hampered by lack of information and by misinformation regarding different departments and also by a lack of a comprehensive view of the work of the State as a whole. Such a survey would not only be of advantage in pointing out defects and furnishing a basis for the intelligent discussion of all questions involved, but would likewise perform a useful service in enlightening the people of the State as to the great efficiency and economy with which the Government as a whole is at present conducted. The message states that the University of Illinois has facilities for organizing a work of this kind promptly and efficiently and for selecting a corps of officials qualified to conduct it. In the Governor's opinion it would be wise to engage in this preliminary work before the calling of any convention for a general revision of our State constitution or for the framing of a new one.

Corporation Law.

The Governor recommends the revision of the corporation law so that corporations may meet modern conditions in the conduct of their business while giving the state proper powers of regulation and control. That such a law was vetoed by him heretofore because of its provision to enable one corporation to own the stock of another. A proper edition of the law would bring large revenues to the State.

The Governor recommends the enactment of a blue sky law.

Banking.

The Governor renews his recommendation for a revision of the banking law contained in his message of 1907 in reference to private banks.

The message also recommends the adoption of a uniform sales act and a uniform transfer of stock act.

Uniform Accounting by Counties and Municipalities.

The Governor recommends the adoption of a uniform system of accounting by counties and municipalities to enable citizens to compare expenditure and income of similar political bodies and furnish a basis for judging of their efficiency and economy.

The message sets forth the present condition of the Illinois Central case. Recommends a revision of the election law and states that the Governor's experience in observing the work of the State Canvassing Board has convinced him that election laws and their administration may be greatly improved.

The message recommends the amendment of the Primary Law so as to give candidates the same powers at primaries as they now have at elections in reference to watchers and challengers.

The message recommends the passage of a corrupt practice act; Of an anti-pass law;

The message also reviews what has been done during the present administration in reference to the simplification of procedure in courts of record and gives a list of the laws which have been passed during that time on this subject.

Public Utilities.

The Governor discusses the public utilities question and the advisability of creating separate commissions for Chicago and the remainder of the State. The message states that it is a serious question whether or not all that is necessary or desirable in connection with the appointment of this commission is to supervise and regulate the issuance of stocks and bonds by public service corporations and to secure for the public such information concerning their operation and such auditing and supervision of their financial affairs as will make it impossible for any such corporation to mislead the public in the future regarding these matters.

The message suggests that cities should have the control of such corporations and favor such laws permitting the purchase of public utilities properties by cities.

The message recommends that a sinking fund large enough to enable the city at the expiration of the franchise period to buy in the property if it seems best to do so, be created.

"The law should further provide, however, that if purchase is not desirable the proceeds of this sinking fund can then be devoted to certain classes of public improvement and a second sinking fund should then be accumulated during the extension period of the franchise. By some such provision for amortization the city will be put in position of real independence in the matter of purchasing franchises and if the service of the company continues good, and a fund will be created which will be of vast utility in making such public improvements.

The Governor recommends the adoption of rules by the General Assembly that will take from the presiding officers thereof the power to control the course of legislation and prevent discussion of bills and a vote thereon.

DECISION AGAINST PATTEN.

At Washington, D. C., by upholding certain disputed counts against James A. Patten of Chicago and others charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in running a cotton "corner," the supreme court sent the case against the men to trial in the lower courts.

The decision settles the important question that a "corner" of any commodity is a restraint of interstate commerce and may be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The decision does not determine the question of guilt of Patten or the other defendants, but sends the case back for trial on the facts with the important principle of law established that if a corner in cotton is proved, the Sherman statute is violated.

Attorney General Wickham is quoted as saying that the decision opens a broad highway to the ending of the high cost of living. He thinks the application of the Sherman anti-trust law to such corners will prevent the placing of artificial prices on necessities.

CHICAGO AUTO EXPOSITION WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Coliseum is Crowded Full With Exhibits—$40,000 Expended For Decorations.

With the greatest showing of cars in the history of the country, the thirteenth annual automobile exposition will open in Chicago Saturday. So great has been the demand for space that the Coliseum, First Regiment Armory and the Wilson buildings—all connected—will be used and even then a score of exhibitors will be left out in the cold.

It is expected that the coming show will be greater than the one recently held in New York in many ways. In Chicago there will be 102 passenger car exhibits while New York had but 88. There will also be 76 commercial car exhibits to New York's 65. In addition there will be 564 accessory exhibits. Owing to the immense demand for space there will be no motorcycle exhibit this year, although this division was one of the attractions of former shows.

"If we had a building twice as large as the Coliseum, the Armory and the Wilson building," said Manager Samuel A. Miles, "we could fill it up and then have people clamoring for space. However, we are utilizing every available inch and I believe we will have the greatest exhibition of its kind in the world."

An army of workmen is busy remodeling the three buildings, and the decorations alone will cost $40,000. The show itself, outside of the money spent by the individual exhibitors, will cost $105,000, the greatest amount ever spent on an exhibition of the kind. The estimated value of the exhibits is $2,000,000 and an attendance of 300,000 is expected during the weeks of Feb. 1 to 15.

AGAINST TICKET SCALPING.

An opinion delivered by the supreme court of Colorado, which holds interest for the traveling public and the railroad man, has been summarized by the Railway Age Gazette as follows:

"A railway company may lawfully issue tickets which are not transferable by the owner. The condition, which prohibits transfer is a legal contract, and the railroad company is under no obligation to carry a person presenting such tickets unless he is, in fact, the original purchaser. Such tickets are not property in the hands of the purchaser in the sense that they may be sold. Dealing therein is a fraud both upon the railway and the traveling public and cannot be made legitimate business. A railway ticket is a mere token to show that the person properly in possession of it has paid his fare. If transferred in violation of its terms it is no longer property in any sense, but it is as much under ban of the law as counterfeit money."

ILLINOIS BANKERS ADMIT NEGRO TO MEMBERSHIP

Chicago Journal: There is no color line in the banking business, according to a majority of the members of the executive council of the Illinois Bankers' association, who gave concrete expression to their democracy by admitting to membership Jesse Binga, a negro banker, whose private establishment is at 3648 South State street. Binga is the first negro admitted to membership in the organization.

Besides his banking business Binga is active in many other lines and owns much property. He is recognized as one of the most influential men of his race in the city.

According to Secretary Richard Crampton the vote by which Binga was admitted to membership was almost unanimous.

"The Illinois Bankers' association is composed of a democratic group of citizens," he said, "and there were few who voted against the admission of Binga, although the racial question was brought up and considered in all its bearings before the vote was taken. The social aspect of the matter was not given serious consideration."

WILL CARLETON, POET, DIED WITH LESS THAN $5,000.

New York, Jan. 30.—That poets, even those who are widely known and beloved, do not die rich, was forcibly illustrated by the filing of the will of the late Will Carleton, "The Poet of the Farm," in Brooklyn. Aside from what manuscripts he may have had, his entire fortune consisted of less than $5,000. The will is dated Dec. 17, 1912, one day before the poet died. He leaves everything to Norman E. Goodrich, his nephew, of Brooklyn. His only other near relatives living are his niece, Mrs. Clara Blossom of Toledo, and Charles C. Goodrich of Redfield, N. D.

STATE NEWS.

No Loading at Stations—One of the latest orders from the management of the Illinois Central in regard to loading in or about railroad stations, is addressed to the trainmen and engineers of the road. T. H. Sullivan, superintendent of the Springfield division of the Illinois Central, has ordered that all train and engine men of his division shall not loaf around the stations, that as soon as they have finished their business with the operator regarding the movement of their train, they should leave.

Skunk Hide Through Mail—Another skunk hide went through the mail in a parcel post pouch at Decatur recently, and for a few hours the postoffice was filled with unpleasant odors. According to the mail clerks it was the worst one that has gone through the local office. In the past month or six weeks several hides have been sent through the mail and transferred in Decatur. The clerks have refused to accept hides for mailing.

Perished at Phone—Mrs. Mary Ritter, aged 85, was burned to death at Mascoutah in a fire that threatened her home. Her charred body was found near the telephone. She had removed the receiver from the hook, but evidently she had not been able to speak to the operator.

Induction Too Great—A special meeting of the Central Illinois Independent Telephone association will be held in Decatur February 27, to discuss the Central Illinois Public Utilities company. The latter company is planning to string numerous high tension wires in central Illinois and the telephone association will try to make some arrangement with it not to string their wires parallel to the telephone company's wires, on account of the great induction from the high tension wires, which would practically put the telephone wires out of business.

Valedictorian Honors—Maintaining an average of 90 in his studies for the four years he was in the high school won for John G. Hesselman the valedictorian honors of the February graduating class of the Springfield high school. Hesselman will deliver the valedictory address at the graduation exercises to be held Thursday evening, February 13, at Chatterton's opera house.

Burglars at Virden—Burglars secured $200 in cash and an express package containing a $25 watch from the office of the Illinois Traction system in Virden Tuesday night. Entrance evidently was effected by breaking a pane in the window on the north side of the office, which enabled the robber to unlock the door.

New Traction Building—According to an announcement just made by the Illinois Traction system, the company is contemplating the erection of a new passenger and freight station at Champaign, which probably will be built within the very near future, if the present plans of the company are carried out. Plans and specifications for a three story brick building which will cost $100,000 have been submitted and approved.

Adopts Finger Print System—Finger prints as marks of identification will be taken by the Elgin City Bankers' company of those depositors unable to subscribe their names in a legible hand has been announced by Cashier George Glos. For many months Mr. Glos has had this plan under advisement and about six weeks ago ordered the equipment which will be placed in use next Monday. This system differs greatly from the other finger print system yet adopted by police departments or banks, it was stated. Other systems take an imprint of the thumb and one or more fingers, while by this system only the imprint of the first three fingers is taken.

"Lid" Is On at Peoria—The "lid" has been applied by Sheriff Grant Minor in Peoria. By order of the sheriff, all punch boards and dice games have been placed under a ban and the "lid" has also been applied to public gambling. Chief of Police Rhoads ordered gambling to cease during the session of the grand jury, but the sheriff took a hand in the matter and ordered gambling of all kinds to cease. He declared the order will be permanent. The action, it is said, is the result of a fight between the city and county administrations.

Acetylene Explosion Fatal—Lee E. Nienkirch, a prominent young business man of San Jose, Cal., died at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday afternoon by an explosion of an acetylene lighting plant which was located in his back yard. The victim of the terrible explosion had been experiencing some trouble with his lighting system of late and had recharged it Tuesday afternoon. His two little daughters were standing near by when he was working with the machine and it is their opinion that he held a lit match near it when the explosion occurred.

OLD AGE DEFERRED.

Echo From the Medico-Legal Society.

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change today; at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 50 ought to have forty good years ahead of him and, thus at ninety be in the fullness of maturity.

What if you have been sixty, or even seventy birthdays—temperate habits, fresh air and exercise, with a simple diet and a sufficient amount of sleep will guard your health.

If perchance, your circulation is poor, if you become run down—weak and no appetite—nothing in the world will tone up those tired, back-sliding organs—enrich the blood and create strength so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We ask every feeble, discouraged old person in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

To Farmers and Stock Raisers

We are now manufacturing under State License, the best Brand of hog food on market known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD". It is far superior to any Brand of Hog food on the market to day. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47,673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

Crude Fat 10.00 to 14 per cent
Crude Protein 52.50 to 60 per cent
Crude Fibre 1.00 to 3 per cent
Phosphate 10.00 to 12 per cent

What Is "Sure Fatten Hog Food"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuffs, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations.

It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sack, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD," analysis as above.

What "Sure Fatten Hog Food" Tankage Does.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby, saving one third of the feed bill, one third of the labor, one third of the risk, increasing profits one third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs ship well with small shrink.

While in no wise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy hogs.

ALWAYS LATE GIRL.

She's the Dropped Stitch In the Social Fabric.

Why is it that so few girls can be on time? Is it that they have no respect for the clock or no real conception of the value of time?

The girl who is always late, who arrives ten, fifteen or perhaps thirty minutes after the appointed hour, who keeps people waiting, with a sublime indifference to their discomfort, is a nuisance and a bore. She is the dropped stitch in the social fabric. Some one is always trying to fill up the hole made by her tardy arrival.

Are you one of the girls who never can be on time? No doubt you think you make up for your tardiness and the trouble you cause by your apologies and your smiles. Perhaps you can make yourself believe that the abused ones who have waited forget their nervousness and impatience and anger as soon as you do. But they do not.

The hostess who has shivered and burned while her dinner reversed the process does not forget. She has been in purgatory even if it does look like her own parlor. She has had to say pleasant things while she thought the opposite.

That ghastly expectancy that pervaded her guests had to be diffused by her own calm assumption of perfect poise and facile gaiety. She gets a nervous headache as she pictures the wreck of her menu. You spoil the affair for her even if the cook manages to save the dinner. No; no one forgets you after you have made such indelible impressions on them.

What Women Are Doing.

Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, president of the American College For Girls, in Constantinople, is a native of Canterbury, N. H., and received her education in two Iowa colleges. In 1869 she was graduated by Lyons college with an A. M. degree, and in 1890 she took a special course in the State university of Iowa, after which she went abroad to take charge of the Constantinople institution. Since then she has taken special courses at the universities of Heidelberg, Zurich, Leipzig, Berlin and Bern.

The College For Girls has been chosen by the Turkish government for the training of government students. There are at present more than 200 students, thirty of whom are Turkish girls. Two young Turkish women, Halide Hanoum and Gulistan Hanoum, both graduates of the College For Girls, have distinguished themselves, the first as a writer, the second by her work for the Young Turk party.

Mrs. A. Calvert Bourgeois is said to be the only woman who stumped the country for Woodrow Wilson. She was born in Missouri, received her early education in the public schools and was graduated from the Massachusetts Law school. She is in active practice in her profession, making a specialty of real estate and probate matters. She is thought to be the only woman public speaker and Chautauqua lecturer who is not a member of any club or suffrage organization. Though eligible to many, she prefers to remain independent.

Table Decoration.

Flowers and fruit mixed make a beautiful decoration for the dinner table. Put a glass tray with a deep border in the center of the table and fill it with oranges, lemons and bay leaves. In the center of the tray stand a glass vase and in this place white, orange and pale yellow flowers. Let green foliage hang down the sides of the vase.

GOOD ROADS QUESTION

A PARAMOUNT ISSUE

Improvement of Highways It Is Believed Would Certainly Reduce Living Cost.

The question of good roads is one of national importance and the interest shown in the general proposition gives reason for the hope that it will not be many years until this country will be a network of roads passable at all seasons of the year. Cutting the cost of transportation from the farms to the railway stations in this way will without doubt have a speedy effect in reducing the high cost of living. Speaking on this important subject in the United States of representatives, Hon. Paul Howland of Ohio made the following statements:

"At the present time the agitation for federal aid for good roads is assuming such proportion and is backed by such substantial sentiment that sooner or later the federal government will undoubtedly respond to the insistent demand of the people and lend substantial assistance to the good roads movement of the country. In this connection it is refreshing to note the spirit of co-operation that is manifesting itself in the various states, and the fact that the various states are not insisting that the entire burden should be borne by the federal government, but are willing to bear their share, or, we might say, the major portion of the burden, speaks well for the ultimate success of the movement for better roads throughout the entire country. I am pleased to note the fact that my own state is now seriously considering a proposed amendment to the constitution of the state authorizing the legislature in its discretion to issue bonds up to $50,000,000 for the improvement of the roads of the state. If the proposal is adopted by the voters of Ohio it will render available a fund covering a series of years, and the wise expenditure of that fund in the improvement of the state roads ought to mark an epoch in the development and progress of the state.

"In my judgment, the question of transportation is the great problem that is confronting the present generation. The splendid development of rail and water transportation has taken care of the long hauls in a reasonably satisfactory manner, but the short hauls, which are a necessity, must be made over the old dirt roads, and these have been sadly neglected in our plans of development. In the immediate vicinity of Cleveland and in Cuyahoga county we have made exceptional progress in the matter of improving our roads, but even in this county there still remains large room for improvement. The problem of cheaper transportation becomes one of the most vital in importance to the consumers of our cities in its relation to the cost of living, and any action looking toward cheaper transportation from the producing districts immediately adjacent to the large cities will necessarily result in material reductions in the retail price of the necessities of life, which are being transported to the city markets. The cost of this improvement, although large in amount as contemplated by the proposal, when apportioned throughout the state will be an infinitesimal burden as compared with the substantial benefits that must necessarily accrue, particularly in cheapening the cost of the necessities of life to the consumer and substantially raising the market value of farm lands rendered available by the improvement of the roads."

The speaker then quoted Mortin Dodge, who has made a serious study of the road problem: "Nothing which we can do will aid so much in reducing the cost of food products in the market and in the distributing the wealth of the state equitably among its people as to correct this ancient error of resting the entire burden of improving the highway system upon the shoulders of the local community. The theory and practice heretofore has been to require the local community to assume the entire burden of the cost of construction and maintenance. This they have been unwilling or unable to do, except in a few places, as in Cuyahoga county, for instance, where the wealth of the city of Cleveland has come to be as great as the wealth of many a state. By reason of building the roads of the county out of a general fund the city contributed about 90 per cent, and it was possible to produce the remarkable system we have in Cuyahoga county. Nobody doubts the beneficial results of this or questions that the money so expended has added to the wealth of the community many times the amount so expended. Let the state imitate this example and it will reap a proportionate benefit."

"Wise and thoughtful men in the early history of the state of Ohio introduced a canal system or public works, and all students of the progress of the state agree that this great undertaking contributed very largely to the rapid development of the state in the early days."

"When the state was admitted to the union there was a provision in the act requiring that five per cent of the proceeds of the sale of public land in the state should be applied to the construction of a national road from Cumberland to and through the state of Ohio. The beneficial results from these two great enterprises—that is to say, the national road and the canal system—were such in the evident development of the state that in 1825, when Lafayette visited Ohio, he declared it to be the eighth wonder of the world."

J. A. Crum was a Thursday business visitor in Franklin.

They All Want 'em!

That's just the way it goes with good Cigars—they all want 'em. Now, we've been making this sweet, long filler, hand-made cigar only eleven months, but in that time they've made a great name for themselves. We call 'em

Because they are only five cents each, and because they are very desirable—mild, kind to the taste, and a long, easy-going cigar.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvino Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVINO BABLER

well's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

KEPT AN EYE ON THE HOUSE.

A Neighboring Act That Resulted in a Comedy of Errors.

A gentleman and his wife occupying a villa in a London suburb asked a neighbor to "keep an eye on the place" while they were away on their annual holiday. The neighbor consented and on the first night of his caretaking noticed a light in the bedroom of the presumptuous unoccupied house and saw the light extinguished.
Accompanied by a policeman, the neighbor made a forcible entrance through the scullery window, and quietly the two men made their way to the bedroom. The light of the constable's bullseye disclosed the head of a man in bed, and the policeman promptly drew his truncheon.

As promptly the occupant of the bed sprang out, and a desperate struggle began. Simultaneously a lady dashed across the room shrieking, threw open the window and at considerable peril clambered out. A second constable, passing at the moment, concluded that the lady was bent on suicide and, entering the front garden, held himself in readiness to catch the woman, who appeared to be about to fling herself to the ground.

The neighbor, however, dragged the lady back into the room, and then the truth began to assert itself. The captured invader of the empty house and the escaping lady were the occupant and his wife, who had suddenly changed their holiday arrangements without informing their too vigilant neighbor.—

FRENCH ZOUAVES.

These Fighters Won Their Greatest Fame in the Crimea.

One of the most interesting class of soldiers of modern times has been the French corps called the zouaves. This body of daring and picturesquely attired fighters reached the heights of its reputation during the Crimean war.
The zouave corps at that time was supposed to consist of Frenchmen. It was, however, quite international, since many during young foreigners had joined it, and it was known to include in its ranks men from Oxford, Göttingen and other universities. It is probable that a majority of its members were in it more for love of fighting than for any love of country.

It is not strange, therefore, that its fame as a fighting body should have spread throughout the world. When our war between the states broke out several corps of zouaves, wearing the glittering oriental uniforms of the French corps or a modification of them, were formed on both sides. On the Union side the best known was that corps commanded by Elmer Ellsworth, a young officer from New York and the first killed on the Union side.
In the Confederacy the most famous corps of zouaves was that called the "Louisiana Tigers."

While in American military life the zouave uniform has practically disappeared, in France the zouave name and uniform still survive—Harper's

STOCK AND BOND TRADING ACTIVE

MARKET SHOWS VIGOROUS AD-VANCES MADE THROUGH THE LIST.

All Leading Stocks Were in Demand and Gains of Two Points and More Were Recorded Among Many Standard Issues.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Jan. 29.—Trading was on a considerably larger scale today in both stocks and bonds. The market lost the uncertainty of the previous session and vigorous advances were made through the list.
Almost all of the leading stocks were in vigorous demand and gains of two points or more were recorded among such standard issues as Reading, Union Pacific, Steel and Amalgamated Copper.

Pro-acting sales in the last hour largely reduced the advance.
Further manipulation on a large scale of American Canning stocks had much to do with the market's activity. The common stock was pushed up more than two points to 45½, within less than 20 minutes of the high market reached last October.

Southern Pacific, which was exceptionally strong yesterday, was comparatively heavy today, although the December statement showed a gain in net revenue of $444,000.
Norfolk & Western slumped more than 2 points from its high price on announcement of the forthcoming issue of 4½ per cent convertible bonds, to be offered at 102½. London's transactions today were on a larger scale and there was some direct buying of Amalgamated by Paris and Canadian Pacific by Berlin.

CHICAGO WOMEN HONOR MRS. EDWARD F. DUNNE

SEVEN HUNDRED WOMEN GIVE "BREAKFAST" AND RECEPTION

Illinois Woman's Democratic League Hold Meeting at Which Politics is the Main Theme.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Seven hundred women prominent in city and state united to day in honoring Mrs. Edward F. Dunne, wife of the governor-elect at a "breakfast" extending some hours into the afternoon. This was preceded by a reception at which politics was the main theme for discussion.

In responding to the toast "the motherhood's influence in politics," Mrs. Andrew J. Graham said: "My grand father used to say that a man ought to take his religion from his mother and his politics from his father and I used to agree with him. But as years went on I was inclined more to the opinion that it would be good for a man to take both religion and politics from his mother and it would not amiss for his father to consult the same wise oracle before he votes."

"I am not one to cry aloud, like the prophet in the wilderness, railing against the times, but I believe that there are many things in our modern life political economic and social that need the refining touch of a gentler philosophy and a kinder outlook to make this great land more habitable for the average citizen. The realization of woman's in the great scheme of civic evolution has slowly and surely forced itself upon the intelligent citizen and the betterment of social and civic conditions have, in a large measure been due to that quick feminine insight ever alert to shield and protect child life and interests as well as the rights of the less fortunate woman who is obliged to cope with unfavorable economic conditions."

Governor Dunne was induced to make an appearance at the meeting and addressed the assemblage, which is known as the Illinois Woman's Democratic League.

RULES GOVERNING PARCEL POST.

Since the parcel post has been inaugurated by the government many inquiries have been received at the Journal office concerning regulations governing this service. Beginning this morning the Journal will print the whole set of rules governing this service, part of them being printed in each issue. The first installment follows:

Fourth Class Mail Matter Defined.

Section 1. That hereafter fourth class mail matter shall embrace all other matter, including farm and factory products, not now embraced by law in either the first, second or third class, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, not greater in size than seventy-two inches in length and girth combined, nor in form or kind likely to injure the person of any postal employee or damage the mail equipment or other mail matter within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery.

Units of Area.

Section 2. That for the purpose of this section the United States and its several territories and possessions, excepting the Philippine Islands, shall be divided into units of area thirty minutes square, identical with the quarter of the area formed by the intersecting parallels of latitude and meridians of longitude, represented on appropriate postal maps or plans, and such units of area shall be the basis of eight postal zones, as follows:

(a) The first zone shall include all territory within such quadrangle, in conjunction with every contiguous quadrangle, representing an area having a mean radial distance of approximately fifty miles from the center of any given unit of area.

(b) The second zone shall include all units of area outside the first zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately one hundred and fifty miles from the center of a given unit of area.

(c) The third zone shall include all units of area outside the second zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately three hundred miles from the center of a given unit of area.

(d) The fourth zone shall include all units of area outside the third zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately six hundred miles from the center of a given unit of area.

(e) The fifth zone shall include all units of area outside the fourth zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately one thousand miles from the center of a given unit of area.

(f) The sixth zone shall include all units of area outside the fifth zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately one thousand four hundred miles from the center of a given unit of area.

(g) The seventh zone shall include all units of area outside the sixth zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately one thousand eight hundred miles from the center of a given unit of area.

(h) The eighth zone shall include all units of area outside the seventh zone.

Section 3. That the rate of postage on fourth class mail matter weighing not more than four ounces shall be one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce; and on such matter in excess of four ounces in weight the rate shall be by the pound, as hereinafter provided (see section 7), the postage in all cases to be paid by distinctive postage stamps affixed. (See section 8.)

2. That except as provided in the next preceding paragraph postage on matter of the fourth class shall be prepaid at the following rates:

(a) On all matter mailed at the postoffice from which a rural route starts, for delivery on such route, or mailed at any point on such route for delivery at any other point thereon, or at the office from which the route starts, or on any rural route starting therefrom, and on all matter mailed at a city carrier office, or at any point within its delivery limits, for delivery by carriers from that office, or at any office for local delivery, five cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(b) For delivery within the first zone, except as provided in the next preceding paragraph, five cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and three cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(c) For delivery within the third zone, except as provided in the next preceding paragraph, five cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and four cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(d) For delivery within the second zone, six cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and five cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(e) For delivery within the fourth zone, eight cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and six cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(f) For delivery within the fifth zone, nine cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and seven cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(g) For delivery within the sixth zone, ten cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and nine cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(h) For delivery within the seventh zone, eleven cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and ten cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

(i) For delivery within the eighth zone and between the Philippine Islands and any portion of the United States, including the District of Columbia and the several territories and possessions, twelve cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and twelve cents for each additional pound or fraction of a pound.

Section 4. That the postmaster general shall provide such special equipment, maps, stamps, directories and printed instructions as may be necessary for the administration of this section; and for the purposes of this section, and to supplement existing appropriations, including the hiring of teams and drivers, there is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

2. The classification of articles mailable as well as the weight limit, the rates of postage, zone or zones, and other conditions of mailability under this act, if the postmaster general shall find on experience that they or any of them are such as to prevent the shipment of articles desirable or to permanently render the cost of the service greater than the receipts of the revenue therefrom, he is hereby authorized, subject to the consent of the interstate commerce commission after investigation, to reform from time to time such classification, weight limit, rates, zone or zones or conditions, or either, in order to promote the service to the public or to insure the receipt of revenue from such service adequate to pay the cost thereof.

Section 5. The postmaster general shall make provision by regulation for indemnification of shippers, for shipment injured or lost, by insurance or otherwise, and, when desired, for the collection on delivery of the postage or price of the article shipped, fixing such charges as may be necessary to pay the cost of such additional services.

2. The postmaster general may readjust the compensation of star-route and screen wagon contractors if it should appear that as a result of the parcel post system the weight of the mails handled by them has been materially increased. Before such readjustment, however, a detailed account must be kept as to the amount of business handled by such star route or screen wagon contractors before and after this section becomes effective for such a period as to clearly demonstrate the amount of the increase and that such increase in the weight of the mail was due to the adoption of the parcel post system.

3. That the establishment of zones and postage rates of this section shall go into effect January first, nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Section 6. That this act shall not in any way affect the postage rate on seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions and plants as fixed by section 482 of the postal laws and regulations (edition of 1902). (See section 7, par. 4.)

2. That for the purpose of a further inquiry into the subject of the general parcel post and all related subjects a joint committee of six persons (members of congress), three of whom shall be appointed by the president of the senate and three by the speaker of the house of representatives, is constituted, with full power to appoint clerks, stenographers, and experts to assist them in this work. That the postmaster general and the interstate commerce commission shall furnish such data and otherwise render such assistance to the said committee as may be desired or available. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of this committee the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated. The committee shall report fully to congress at the earliest date possible.

3. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this section are hereby repealed.

Rates of Postage.

Section 7. Parcels weighing four ounces or less are mailable at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than four ounces are mailable at the pound rates shown in the following table, a fraction of a pound being considered a full pound.

2. The parcel post rate between any point in the United States and any point in the Hawaiian Islands, the United States postal agency of Shanghai, and any point in Alaska, between two points in Alaska, except for parcels weighing four ounces or less, on which the rate is one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof, shall be twelve cents for the first pound and twelve cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof. These rates also apply to parcels mailed in the United States for delivery in the canal zone, and to parcels between the Philippine Islands and any portion of the United States, including the District of Columbia, and the several territories and possessions. (See section 3, paragraph 2 (i)).

3. SOCIALIST MAYOR OF BERKELEY DECLINES TO ATTEND BANQUET

Declares $3 Per Plate Banquet of Associated Charities is Vulgar and Pagan—Will Give His $3 to Some Needy Family.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 30.—In behalf of Lazarus lying at the gate J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist mayor of Berkeley, declined today to attend the banquet of the Associated Charities of San Francisco at which guests who pay $3 a plate will watch moving pictures illustrating "How needy families live," and "battles with poverty and sickness."

"The mayor of Berkeley," the letter runs, "does not receive sufficient salary to dine with the social class that can squander $3 on one meal and I prefer to give this $3 to some needy family."

"But the supreme reason which I offer is that there is something positively vulgar and ostentatiously pagan in the spectacle of a group of citizens of a twentieth century city sitting down to a $3 banquet, while pictures are being shown displaying the hunger of the poor."

"This in behalf of Lazarus lying at the gate."

Vice-president—Paul Downey, Greenview.

Secretary-treasurer—W. E. Hall, Jacksonville.

A resolution was passed unanimously that a committee of three be appointed and known as a soil and crop improvement committee, whose duties are to inquire into the matter of better farming to the end that a soil and crop expert may be obtained for work in the different counties. J. C. Votsmler of Ashland, Paul Downey of Greenview and W. E. Hall of Jacksonville were named as the committee who will make a report later.

Mr. E. W. McCullough, general manager of the National Implement and Vehicle association, representing the manufacturers, gave the dealers a talk relating to the best methods of conducting their business.
